

Joyce Pensato “Wigged and Wild”

Sidewalk reception of Cold Kirin beer and Clemonade Sunday July, 13th 6-8pm.

Parker's Box is delighted to present a window installation by Joyce Pensato, on view at Parker's Box from July 13th through August 24th. Pensato, who is well-known for her personalized gestural images of wild Disney characters, takes on her friends and neighbors in this idiosyncratic work that asks everyone from figures in the art world to local dog walkers to don a pale synthetic wig and do their thing. Using the window of the gallery as her studio wall, the artist continues to arrange and rearrange snapshots of awkward blonde beings, resulting in an ever changing -- sometimes self conscious, always amusing -- storyboard of new characters. Stars are born as Andy looks on.

Parker Box's is located at 193 Grand Street, between Bedford and Driggs Avenues, in Williamsburg Brooklyn. Please visit our website at www.parkersbox.com for directions.
